
Only the two endpoint-aligned models appear in (a): their output is a predicted log10 ER on the same scale as the measurement. The other three output unitless scores and cannot enter this error axis; all five are compared in (b). n = 2,624.